

U. S. FLYING BOAT WILL MAKE TEST FLIGHT THIS WEEK

Few Touches Needed to Make Seaplane Fit—May Be Out To-Day.

The NC-2, first of the squadron of three navy flying boats being prepared for flight across the Atlantic, will have her tryout this week at the Rockaway Naval Aviation Station. She is likely to come out of her hangar today, and should weather conditions favor, probably will be in condition to rise from Jamaica Bay tomorrow.

Her four Liberty motors went through their black tests before installation, and only a few finishing touches are needed to render her fit for the supreme effort she was designed to make.

Commander H. C. Richardson, in charge of the construction of the navy's blue ribbon fliers, and others engaged with him in the work are looking forward with intense interest to the trial of the "Two." What she will develop in power, speed and lifting ability is a question of vital interest to the success of the undertaking.

The prime and obvious departure in the "Two" from the NC-1 is the possession of four motors instead of three, and the fact that the engine compartment is experimental. Two are set forward, driving two tractor propellers, and two aft, driving pushers. With a pair of propellers that are not on each side of the fuselage, the point to be determined in the trial flight is whether the tractor propellers will "starve" the pushers, or whether the latter get their full grip on the air.

The speed at which the "Two" will take-off and land is another point which only a try-out will decide. The NC-1 has alighted at thirty-nine miles an hour, and her best at the take-off has been about forty-two miles. With a theoretical 400 more horse power, the NC-2 is expected to develop higher speed and greater lifting power, and the angle of her tractor propellers may enable her to rise at a slower speed than the "One."

It was learned yesterday that the NC-2 suffered a broken wing in Friday's gale. Because of lack of hangar room she was anchored offshore, and at the height of the storm began to drag. The boat was available, a submarine patrol, was sent out to try to keep her offshore, but her 126-foot wing spread made it impossible to hold her and she drifted on the beach, tail first.

In spite of the efforts of as many of the station crew as could be used, the big ship beat her lower left wing on a runway used for launching the planes until about three-quarters of it had been shattered. Her tail, standing high above the beach, suffered no damage, and the work of the men saved her from being a total wreck. It took about a week to mend the ship.

President Alan R. Hawley of the Aero Club of America wants this country to go on record as a winner of the London Daily Mail prize of $50,000 for the first pilot who sails across the Atlantic within seventy-two hours. He said yesterday that if the Navy Department permits he and other members of the Aero Club will contribute the $50,000 entrance fee, the prize, if won, to be donated to whatever cause the Navy Department elects.

When Franklin D. Roosevelt, Acting Secretary of the Navy, was advised of Mr. Hawley's offer, he said: "We appreciate the spirit in which the offer is made, but cannot see how it could be accepted or how the American Navy could become a constant for a prize offered for a private enterprise."

WHY CHILLY WEATHER BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says skin pores are closed and uric acid remains in blood.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It is not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In chilly and chills, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. Adv.

Woman's Photo Is the Only Clue To Dead U. S. Soldier's Identity

Watch Carried by Fighter

The photograph here printed was carried in the watch of a United States soldier who died in France last fall. This picture is the only clue to the identity of the man. A broken piece of tin snatching which the soldier used as a watchguard, lacking any opportunity to get anything better when he was in the field, was still attached to the ring in the stem of the watch.

The photograph has been entrusted to The Evening World as the agency by which the watch could best be returned to those to whom it must have a value beyond all estimate which others can put upon it.

If the woman of whom this photograph is a picture will send another photograph of herself (in a different pose if possible) with a certificate of any official of her town or the Postmaster addressed to "Soldier's Memorial The Evening World, New York City," every effort will be made through official channels to put the dead soldier's timepiece in the hands of the one to whom he would certainly want to have it find its way.

The authorities of the army take the utmost care, even under the worst conditions, to see that the personal effects of soldiers who died in France are saved and returned to the families of the dead. Officers are required to collect and list all such articles and forward them, with the inventory, to the Effects Bureau in France by registered mail, and sending a duplicate of the same inventory to the same office under a different cover.

In this instance there was no information furnished which could be of aid in directing the official bureau except that the property had belonged to a soldier who had died between Sept. 15 and Oct. 5, 1918. The Evening World's informant could not even learn to what branch of the service the owner had been attached, much less his name, rank or organization.

HOW ELIHU ROOT WOULD AMEND LEAGUE OF NATIONS COVENANT

Suggests Changes to Make Arbitration More Effective and to Protect Monroe Doctrine.

Elihu Root, former Secretary of State, in his answer to the request of Will H. Hays, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, for Mr. Root's views on the League of Nations, suggested six amendments to the covenant of the league. Mr. Root's proposed amendments follow:

FIRST AMENDMENT.
Strike out Article XIII and insert the following:
"The High Contracting Parties agree to refer to the existing Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague, or to the Court of Arbitral Justice proposed at the Second Hague Conference, when established, or to some other arbitral tribunal, all disputes between them (including those affecting honor and vital interests) which are of a justiciable character, and which the powers concerned have failed to settle by diplomatic methods. The powers so referring to arbitration agree to accept and give effect to the award of the tribunal."

"Disputes of a justiciable character are defined as disputes as to the interpretation of a treaty, as to any question of international law, as to the existence of any fact which if established would constitute a breach of any international obligation, or as to the nature and extent of the reparation to be made for any such breach."

"Any question which may arise as to whether a dispute is of a justiciable character is to be referred for decision to the Court of Arbitral Justice when constituted, or, until it is constituted, to the existing Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague."

(Article XIII, is that providing for arbitration by an unnamed court of "high dispute or difficulty" considered "suitable" for arbitration by the High Contracting Parties).

SECOND AMENDMENT.
Add to Article XIV, the following paragraph:
"The Executive Council shall call a general conference of the powers to meet not less than two years or more than five years after the signing of this convention for the purpose of reviewing the condition of international law and of agreeing upon and stating in authoritative form the principles and rules thereof. Thereafter regular conferences for that purpose shall be called and held at stated times."

(Article XIV, is that providing for the formulation of plans for the establishment of a court of international justice).

THIRD AMENDMENT.
Immediately before the signature of the American Delegate, insert the following declaration:
"Inasmuch as in becoming a member of the league the United States of America is moved by no interest or wish to intrude upon or interfere with the political policy or internal administration of any foreign state, and by no existing or anticipated dangers in the affairs of the American Continent, but accedes to the wish of the European states that it shall join its power to theirs for the preservation of general peace, the representatives of the United States of America sign this convention with the understanding that nothing therein contained shall be construed to relinquish the United States of America of its traditional attitude toward purely American questions, or to require the submission of its policy regarding such questions (including the following) to the league."

AWARDED $2,000 A MONTH.

Mrs. Rosalind H. Bloomfield, wife of Leonard Bloomfield, a merchant, was today awarded $2,000 a month alimony and $2,000 in counsel fees by Judge Justice Thompson. She is suing her husband for separation, alleging adultery.

The decision in the case that the alimony is to date from Feb. 1, and against him will be charged with the costs of the suit, was rendered by Judge Justice Thompson. Mrs. Bloomfield is living expenses from the commencement of the suit. The cost of the railroad station and also deducted from the monthly alimony.

AUSTRIAN STRIKE STILL ON.

PARIS, March 31.—(Reuters.) The railroad strike in Austria has been settled, according to a dispatch from Vienna. The strike was called off by the Austrian Government, which was forced to do so by the fact that the strike was spreading to the rest of the country. The Austrian Government has offered to act as arbitrator, but the strikers have been destroyed almost property and stopping the transportation of food. A council of railroad workers has been formed in Vienna.

Chancellor Renner has implied the strikers to moderate their demands, pointing out that in case of complications, the Entente troops will occupy the country.

therein the admission of immigrants to the decision or recommendation of other powers."

FOURTH AMENDMENT.
Add to Article X, the following:
"After the expiration of five years from the signing of this convention any party may terminate its obligation under this article by giving one year's notice in writing to the Secretary General of the league." (Article X, is that providing that the high contracting parties shall "respect and preserve as against external aggression" the territorial integrity and political independence of all members of the league).

FIFTH AMENDMENT.
Add to Article IX, the following:
"Such commission shall have full power of inspection and verification personally and by authorized agents as to all armament, equipment, munitions and industries referred to in Article VIII." (Article IX, provides for a permanent commission to advise the league on military and naval questions).

SIXTH AMENDMENT.
Add to Article XXIV, the following:
"The Executive Council shall call a general conference of members of the league to meet not less than five or more than ten years after the signing of this convention for the revision thereof, and at that time, or at any time thereafter upon one year's notice, any member may withdraw from the league."

(Article XXIV, gives the body of delegates the right to advise the reconsideration of treaties that have become inapplicable and possibly dangerous).

PRESBYTERIANS SEEK MILLIONS FOR DRY WORLD

Combat "Liquor Invasion" of Other Countries and Hope to Stop Bull Fighting.

An effort to extend Prohibition throughout the entire world is about to be made by the Presbyterian Church of this country as part of its New Era Movement, for which it is proposed to collect many millions of dollars.

The announcement says in part: "The Presbyterian Church will join in an intensive movement in the City of Mexico directed against the liquor traffic and also against gambling, cock fighting and bull fighting."

"To combat the invasion of foreign mission fields by the liquor interests the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America is appropriating funds and sending special field workers into many lands.

"Daniel A. Poling, Dr. D. L. Colvin, the Rev. Charles Scanlon and Capt. Edward Page Gaston are abroad for the Presbyterian Board of the Temperance in the interest of a worldwide campaign for Prohibition. Dr. W. J. Johnson is campaigning for Prohibition in Cuba, Panama and South America."
